

COAL GAS NEARLY KILLS FAMILY OF 9

Only Timely Arrival of a Visitor Saved the Bilco Family from Asphyxiation After Thanksgiving Feast.

After a humble Thanksgiving feast in their two-story tenement at No. 146 Classon avenue, Brooklyn, Angelo Bilco, his wife, Mary, and their seven children were brought nearly face to face to death last night.

The Bilcos had retired after banking the fire in the coal stove for the night. The seven children, the father and mother, found resting places in the crowded room, the father planning to get up early this morning to begin his day's work.

At 9 o'clock Amos Buono, of No. 134 Throop avenue, went to call on them and found the door locked and a strange silence in the rooms. Knowing that he was expected at the house, he pounded, and finally broke in the door.

Stratched on their beds the family of nine lay unconscious.

Dr. Isard, of the Cumberland Street Hospital, responded to the ambulance call and the father, mother and oldest child were sent to the hospital where they are in a serious condition. The children were given medical attention and were taken care of by friends.

Panic-Stricken Tenement Tenants Complain to Police that Thieves Had Been at Work
During the Excitement.

Fire caused a panic to-day in a crowded five-story tenement at No. 183 Allen street, a building which stands within a few feet of the Second avenue "L" structure. John Mulholland, a member of truck No. 9, was the only person injured, and he only sustained slight burns about the face from the explosion of a gas meter.

Sparks from the burning building fired the ties of the overhead railway, and a force of men was called out by the Metropolitan Company to save its line. The danger was soon past, however, for the firemen got hold of the blaze in the cellar of the tenement in quick time.

The fire originated in a bakery, and it had such a start before the employees of the Metropolitan Company could get to it. As they reached the sidewalk, the heat had become so intense that it burst a big plate-glass window, scattering the pieces in all directions.

After the fire some of the tenants of the building claimed to have been robbed. A man reported to the police that a man had cut her bag from her waist as she ran out of the house into the street.

While searching for some clue that would lead her to the whereabouts of her lost son, Mrs. Rachel Cohen set fire to a five-story tenement-house, at No. 17 Essex street to-day. The greatest excitement followed. The house was gutted by its many tenants, who ran screaming into the street.

Mrs. Cohen's oldest son disappeared from home on Tuesday last. The mother, who also has four other smaller children, has been searching the city for the lost boy but without success. Thinking that there was probably a letter or some address in the boy's trunk which would lead to him, she searched his effects when the flames of the candle ignited some of the boy's clothing. The fire spread quickly.

Mrs. Cohen seized her two youngest children, and fled through the halls of the tenement, screaming "Fire!" The cry was taken up by other tenants and then by crowds on the street.

When the firemen arrived the streets were so crowded that the engines had trouble in getting to the burning property. The blaze was extinguished with small damage.

COUNTRY TOWNS IN DARKNESS BY FIRE

Electric Plant at Hackensack Destroyed and Current Cut Off, While Force Works to Prevent an Explosion.

(Specialists The Evening World.)
HACKENSACK, N. J., Nov. 27.—The plant of the Bergen County Gas and Electric Company at Hackensack, which supplies electric lights in every town in Bergen County, was damaged to the extent of $75,000 early to-day by fire, started by a short circuit on the big switch board. The fire-alarm system was out of order, and the engineer had to use the telephone to call the engines.

The entire county, as far as street lights were concerned, was thrown into darkness, and it may be two days before the current can be turned on.

The firemen were fearful of an explosion in the gas tanks which adjoin the works, but they worked valiantly and prevented the spread of flames.

There was no insurance on the plant, which was considered one of the best equipped in the country.

While this fire was in progress a residence in West View, just across the Hackensack River, was burned to the ground.

The Best Thing Done in a Half Century of Clothes-Making—Our "Concave" Shoulder.

Our "Concave" Shoulder is a real improvement, something tangible, the only real big achievement that looms up among things done in a half century of clothes-making. It is an achievement we are truly proud of, but it means more to you than to us. The superiority of our "Concave" Shoulder to the ordinary shoulder is easily proven by comparison. Its grace, its symmetry, its height and breadth is a work of rare, good tailoring. The ordinary shoulder is stuffed out with superfluous, spongy wadding in order to give it the broad-shouldered effect, but the padding stretches and sags and the shoulder loses its shape after a little wear, while our "Concave" Shoulder will retain its shape—always.

Winter Suits & Overcoats $15
At $15—Medium length, long loose Overcoats, and Chesterfields in black and Oxford velours, kerseys and meltons. At $15—Single and double-breasted Sack Suits, all the new models in plain and fancy cheviots, cassimeres, tweeds, quiet effects in unfinished and finished worsteds and rich, soft-finished black tibetans.

Every other good sort of Suit or Overcoat—$12.50 to $50.

IN Regal Shoes the toe cap is put on, right over a solid one-piece vamp. It gives double strength to the toe—keeps it shapely. Nearly all other shoes have "pieced vamps"—that is, they simply sew the edge of the cap onto the edge of the vamp—they save a piece of vamp as big as the tip. But where does the wearer come in?

The maker has saved a few cents. The dealer makes just as much. But the wearer as usual "gets the hot end of the stick."

Funny thing, the way most shoe manufacturers figure.
They study and scheme and work and stew, to see how much they can take out of a shoe and still have it hold together. Now we've always tried to see how much we could crowd into shoes. And yet there are shoemakers who can't understand why their business lags while ours booms.

Our system of selling direct from tanner to wearer is so economical that, at $3.50 a pair, the best leather and plenty of it can be used in
